HOW APPRENTICESHIPS WORK

Applying for an apprenticeship is just like applying for any other job. You'll need to brush up on your interview skills and prepare an up-to-date resume. Don't worry - we're here to help with that.

We'll aim to match you with your chosen trade and "host" you with an employer.

While working for your host you'll earn a wage and have time off-site to attend training.

We help you plan out your qualification and balance it with work commitments. It's all about learning practical skills in your trade, getting qualified, and earning while you do it.

At the end of your training you'll be trade qualified, have years of experience, and be highly employable.

OPPORTUNITIES ARE LIMITLESS WITH AN APPRENTICESHIP

An apprenticeship or traineeship with MIGAS opens up a world of choice and an Australia-wide network of host organisations.

From mine sites to workshops, from great heights to deep underground, MIGAS hosts are some of the biggest names in the country along with the most successful small businesses and contractors. Choose your trade and start your own career adventure.
