

INFOGRAPHIC FRIDAY

Taking complex data about Australian Apprenticeships and making it easy to understand.

CAREER

VS.

TRADE

Nearly 50% of 25-year-olds hold a bachelor's degree.

(Australian Bureau of Statistics, 2019)

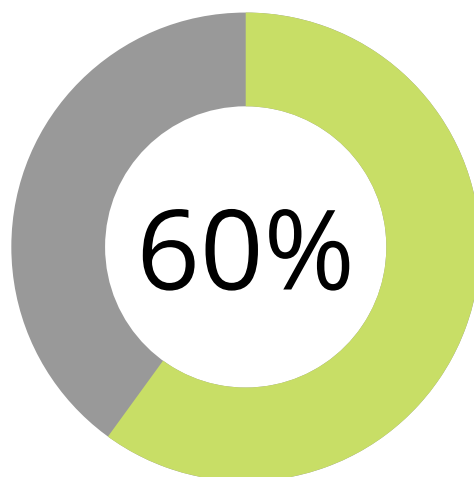

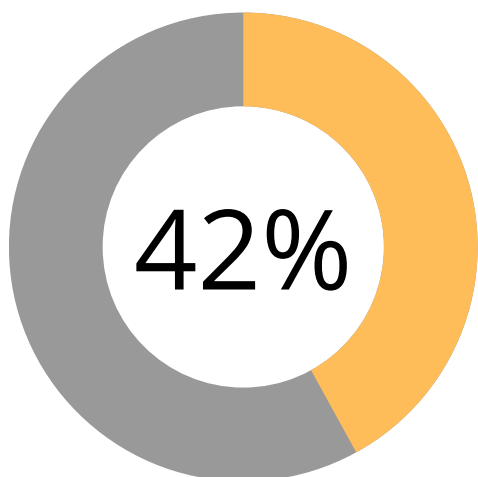

Yet, university graduates may be:

- less likely to have full-time employment
- earn lower salaries, and
- experience less job satisfaction

(Graduate Careers Australia, 2020)

Those who pursued a trade apprenticeship or a master's degree may have higher job satisfaction and earn higher salaries.

(Skills Confidence Report, 2021)

Only 42% of university graduates were happy with their career choice, while 60% of tradespeople reported job satisfaction
